General Information:

The Gillespie Central Appraisal District (GCAD) is a political subdivision of the State of Texas created effective January 1, 1980. The provisions of the Texas Property Tax Code govern the legal, statutory, and administrative requirements of the appraisal district. The local property tax system follows the principle of checks and balances. An appraisal district board of directors hires the chief appraiser, sets the budget and appoints the appraisal review board members.

The directors have no authority to set values or appraisal methods. The chief appraiser carries out the appraisal district's legal duties, hires the staff, makes the appraisals and operates the appraisal office. The Gillespie Central Appraisal District Board of Directors consist of five members. The Directors are appointed or elected by the eligible taxing units of Gillespie County in accordance to Section 6.03 of the Texas Property Tax Code.

2021 GCAD Board Members:

- Tim Dooley (Chairman)
- Donald Davis
- Nicole Bartel Carroll
- Tony Klein
- Jim McAfee

Purpose of Report:

The purpose of this report is to better inform the property owners within the boundaries of the Gillespie Central Appraisal District (GCAD) of year-to-year data and changes within the state property tax system. Appraisals performed by the GCAD are an estimate of market value on January 1 of each year as defined by the Texas Property Tax Code (Sec. 1.04) on all taxable property within the boundaries of GCAD. The intended use of the appraisals is to establish a tax base upon which a property tax will be levied, and provide the taxing units of Gillespie County certified appraisal rolls of all taxable property within their jurisdictions for purposes of Ad Valorem Taxation only.

Taxing Units Served by GCAD:

- Gillespie County
- City of Fredericksburg
- Doss Consolidated Common School District
- Fredericksburg Independent School District
- Harper Independent School District
- Gillespie Water Control & Improvement District
- Hill Country Underground Water Conservation Dist.
- Stonewall Water Control & Improvement District

Market Value:

Texas Property Tax Code (Sec. 1.04) defines market value as “the price at which a property would transfer for cash or its equivalent under prevailing market conditions if:

- (A) exposed for sale in the open market with a reasonable time for the seller to find a purchaser;
- (B) both the seller and the purchaser know of all the uses and purposes to which the property is adapted and for which it is capable of being used and of the enforceable restrictions on its use; and
- (C) both the seller and the purchaser seek to maximize their gains and neither is in a position to take advantage of the exigencies of the other.”

For school tax purposes, the over 65, disability, surviving spouse, and 100% disabled veteran residential homestead exemptions create a tax ceiling prohibiting increased taxes on the homestead of existing structures, (any/all new improvements added to the home site will cause the ceiling to be readjusted factoring in the new improvements market value, and then reset in the subsequent tax year).

All homeowners who qualify for the residential homestead exemption are subject to the placement of a homestead cap on their qualifying property which limits the increase of taxable value on the homestead property to ten (10%) percent a year. However, the market value will be reflective of the local real estate market.

Disabled Veterans:

In addition to the residential homestead exemption allowable to disabled veterans with a 100% service-connected disability (as described above), disabled veterans are allowed a general exemption on any property they own based upon the percentage rating as determined by the Department of Veteran's Affairs. Current exemption amounts, as based upon these ratings are shown in the chart below:

Percentage Disability	Exemption Amount
10-29%	$5,000
30-49%	$7,500
50-69%	$10,000
70-100%	$12,000

State Comptroller PTAD Studies

According to Section 5.10 and 5.102 of the Texas Property Tax Code, the State Comptroller’s Property Tax Assistance Division (PTAD) shall conduct two reviews/studies of appraisal districts. These PTAD reviews/studies have an alternating cycle in which one year the PTAD conducts a Property Value Study (PVS) and the following year a Methods & Assistance Program (MAP) review.

The PVS determines the degree of uniformity and median level of appraised value ratios within certain state categories, for each appraisal district. It also determines the taxable value of property for each school district in regards to school funding. In conducting the study, the comptroller applies appropriate standard statistical analysis techniques to data collected as required by Section 403.302, of the Government Code. A PVS is being conducted for the 2021 appraisal year, with the results being unavailable at this time. The three previous PVS results are shown below.

The MAP reviews the governance of the appraisal district, taxpayer assistance, and the appraisal standards, operating procedures, and methodology used by each appraisal district. The areas of study remain the same year to year, but the specific questions, number of questions, documentation requested, and scoring system do change. Pre-2014, the highest score possible was ‘Exceeds’, determined by a score exceeding 89 in each MAP review category. From 2014 to present a score between 90-100 was considered a ‘Meets’ and a ‘Meets All’ determination was reserved for a 100 score. A MAP review was conducted for the 2020 appraisal year, with the results shown below.

The chief appraiser shall use the method regardless of whether he/she considers that method to be the most appropriate method. The new law applies only to real property that is owned or leased by a business entity with gross receipts under a certain amount; located in a disaster or emergency area; and has not been damaged as a direct result of the disaster or emergency. It also includes tangible personal property that is owned or leased by such a business. The installments can only be for taxes that are imposed on the property by a taxing before the first anniversary of the disaster or emergency. Except for school districts and special taxing units, the governing body of a taxing unit may direct that the voter-approval tax rate be calculated as provided for special taxing units, if any part of the taxing unit is located in a disaster area declared by the Governor or the President of the United States in the current tax year and at least one person is granted an exemption under Section 11.35. The calculation may continue to be used for no more than three years. A formula for this "emergency revenue rate" is stated in the new law. Provisions for elections are included.

School Finance

HB 1525 Rep. Dan Huberty Relating to the public school financing system

The bill makes changes to funding allotments, specifically for fast-growth school districts, and reinstates the gifted and talented allotment. The bill provides for grant programs and adds new administrative requirements. It includes many amendments to existing programs and practices to assist the Texas Education Agency to implement provisions of HB 3 from the last legislative session. The changes in law result in additional State funding to public education of $246 million in the 2022 fiscal year and $215 million in the 2023 fiscal year. Of importance to funding based on property taxation, the bill changes the law regarding tax compression to replace the Comptroller's Property Value Study (PVS) determinations of value with adjusted local taxable values. This change conforms to the practice currently used by the Texas Education Agency, since the PVS values are not available when tax compression determinations are made.

Other

HB 3607 Rep. Jeff Leach Relating to non-substantive additions to, revisions of, and corrections in enacted codes, to the non-substantive codification or disposition of various laws omitted from enacted codes, and to conforming codifications enacted by the 86th Legislature to other Acts of that legislature

Vetoed Bill

Chapter 23, Tax Code, is amended by adding Section 23.527, and applies to a sand mining operation that overlies the Carrizo-Wilcox Aquifer and that is 30 miles of the boundary of a city with a population of more than 500,000 or one mile of a building in use as a single-family or multi-family residence. Such an operation is defined as an aggregate operation registered under the Water Code at which sand is removed or extracted. Eligibility of open-space land does not end because it ceases to be devoted principally to agricultural use if: (1) the owner intends that the use of the land be resumed; (2) the land is used for sand mining; and (3) the land is reclaimed according to standard best practices not later than the first anniversary of the date sand mining operations began on the land. The landowner must notify the appraisal district in writing not later than the 30th day after the date sand mining operations begin on the land. The Texas Commission on Environmental Quality is required to adopt standard best practices for land reclamation with specific statutory provisions listed in subsection (f). The executive director of TCEQ is required to send notice to the chief appraiser of the appraisal district where the land is located that the owner applied for a determination letter concerning reclamation and must issue a determination letter with a copy to the chief appraiser. An appeal process is provided at TCEQ. The chief appraiser is authorized to testify at the appeal. The chief appraiser is required to accept a final determination by the TCEQ as conclusive evidence that land was reclaimed according to the standard best practices in a timely manner. Eligibility of the land for open-space designation does not end because the land ceases to be devoted principally to agricultural use to the degree of intensity generally accepted in the area if: (1) the owner of the land provides the notice required in this new section not later than the 90th day after the effective date of this act; and (2) the chief appraiser has not made a determination that a change of use has occurred (as of the effect date of this act). The new law applies only to land on which sand mining operation began before a certain date.

The allocation is based on the number of miles that all vessels or other watercraft in the fleet are used in the state in the preceding year. The property owner may designate the location of the property owner's principal place of business as the taxable situs of the fleet. The definition of "special-purpose vessel or other watercraft not used as an instrumentality of commerce" is a vessel or other watercraft that is designed to be transient and customarily is moved from location to location on a more or less regular basis; is economically employed when operated in a localized area or in a fixed place; and is not primarily employed to transport cargo, passengers, and equipment but rather to perform some specialized function or operation not requiring constant movement from point to point. the Comptroller's model procedures. The chairperson of the ARB is responsible for the administration of hearing procedures. Copies of the procedures must be distributed to the appraisal district board of directors, the taxpayer liaison officer, and the Comptroller not later than the 15th day after the date the board adopts the hearing procedures. Section 19. Amends Section 41.47(c) and adds (d-1), Tax Code

Orders determining protest must list separately the appraised value of the land and the improvement for real property protests.

In counties with populations of 120,000 or more, a property owner may submit a written request to require the chief appraiser to deliver by email the notice of issuance and the order determining protest, if there is no agreement in place under Section 1.085. A request under this subsection may be submitted only by the property owner whose property is subject to the protest, an attorney representing the property owner, or a tax agent designated by the property owner. A person may include in a single request more than one property owned by the same property owner or multiple properties owned by multiple property owners. A person may submit more than one request. The request may indicate that the chief appraiser must make the delivery to the property owner, an attorney representing the property owner, a designated tax agent, or a combination of those persons. A person must submit a request before the protest hearing relating to each property included in the request. The delivery of the order determining protest by email must be made not later than the 21st day after the date the ARB issues the order.

Effective Date: January 1, 2022

Section 20. Amends Section 41.66(a) and adds (q), Tax Code

The appraisal review board shall conduct hearings according to their adopted hearing procedures. A person who owns property in the district or the chief appraiser may file a complaint with the taxpayer liaison officer alleging that the ARB has adopted or is implementing hearing procedures that are not in compliance with the Comptroller's model procedures or is not complying with procedural requirements of law. The liaison officer shall investigate and report findings to the appraisal district directors. The directors shall direct the chairman of the ARB to take remedial action if they determine that the allegations are true. The board of directors may remove the chairperson of the ARB from the position if the board determines that the chairperson failed to take actions necessary to comply with the model hearing procedures.

Effective Date: Immediately or September 1, 2021

Section 21. Adds Section 41A.015, Tax Code: Limited Binding Arbitration to Compel Compliance with Certain Procedural Requirements Related to Protests

Property owners who have filed protests may file a request for binding arbitration to:

1. rescind ARB procedural rules that do not comply with model hearing procedures;
2. schedule a hearing as required by Section 41.45;
3. deliver information as required by Section 41.461;
4. allow the property owner to offer evidence, examine or cross-examine witnesses or parties, and present arguments as required by Section 41.66(b);
5. set a hearing or postpone a hearing that does not begin within 2 hours of the scheduled time as required by Section 41.66(i);
6. schedule hearings concerning multiple properties on the same day as requested according to Section 41.66(j); or
7. refrain from using or offering as evidence information requested by the property owner under Section 41.461 that was not delivered to the property owner at least 14 days before the hearing as required by Section 41.67(d).

Before a request for binding arbitration can be filed, two steps are required. First, the property owner must deliver written notice of the alleged procedural violation (listed above) to the ARB chairperson, the chief appraiser, and the taxpayer liaison officer by certified mail on or before the 5th business day after the day of the alleged non-compliance. Second, the ARB chairperson or the chief appraiser, as applicable, must fail to deliver a written statement on or before the 10th day after the delivery of the notice confirming that the ARB or chief appraiser will comply or cure a procedural violation.

Failure to comply with these provisions is not a ground for postponement of a protest hearing. The ARB may cure the alleged procedural violation that occurred during a hearing by rescinding the order determining protest and scheduling a new hearing.

A request for binding arbitration must be filed with the Comptroller not earlier than the 11th day and not later than the 30th day after the date the property owner delivers the notice of the procedural violation. The request must be in a form prescribed by the Comptroller, accompanied by an arbitration deposit of either $450 (if the property is a residence homestead valued at $500,000 or less) or $550 for other property. The Comptroller's form must require that the property owner provide a statement that the required written notice was delivered and the deposit was made; describe the alleged procedural violation and the failure to cure by the ARB or chief appraiser; describe the property; and provide other information reasonably necessary for the Comptroller to appoint an arbitrator.

A property owner may request a single arbitration under this section involving more than one property, more than one protest hearing, or an allegation of the failure by the ARB or chief appraiser to comply with more than one procedural requirement so long as the requirements for notice and cure (within 10 days) are met for each alleged failure. The arbitration deposit and arbitrator fees are computed as if a single property were the subject of the arbitration.

The Comptroller is required to appoint an eligible arbitrator from its registry (a lawyer who is not required to reside in the county where the property is located and agrees to be paid $400 for eligible residence homestead property owners or $500 for other property owners). The ARB, chief appraiser, and property owner are parties to the arbitration and may appear by counsel and other designated persons.

The arbitrator shall make an award and deliver an electronic copy to the property owner, the ARB chairperson, the chief appraiser, and the Comptroller. A determination of compliance or non-compliance with eligible procedures is required, along with a directive regarding compliance actions. The determination is final and enforceable according to Section 41A.09. [NOTE: There are no deadlines regarding arbitration proceedings and issuance of awards.]

If the arbitrator determines non-compliance with eligible procedural requirements, the property owner is entitled to a refund of the deposit (less $50 administrative fee for the Comptroller) and the appraisal district must pay the arbitrator's fee. Otherwise, the arbitrator is paid from the deposit. Special provisions are included for arbitrations involving more than one property or allegation of procedural violations.

An award does not affect the property owner's right to appeal the final determination of a protest under Chapter 42 or pursue any other legal or statutory remedy available to the property owner.

Effective Date: Immediately or September 1, 2021

Section 22. Amends Section 41A.10(a) and adds (c), Tax Code

For purposes of binding arbitration under this section, deferral of the collection of taxes for residence homestead owners who are age 65 or older or who are disabled is not considered a delinquency. The purpose of the amendment is to allow persons with deferrals to be eligible for this alternative dispute resolution concerning the value of property.

Effective Date: This section applies to a request for binding arbitration filed on or after January 1, 2022.

Section 23. Amends Section 42.015(a), Tax Code

A person leasing property who is contractually obligated to reimburse the property owner for taxes is entitled to appeal an ARB order related to a protest brought by the owner if the owner does not appeal.

Effective Date: This section applies to an appeal under Chapter 42 that is pending on the effective date of the bill (immediately or September 1, 2021).

Section 24. Amends Section 42.23(e), Tax Code

Courts are prohibited from entering an order, including a protective order under the Rules of Civil Procedure, that conflicts with Section 42.23(d). This section is the provision altering discovery rules in property tax cases, if a property owner makes a settlement offer, requests alternative dispute resolution, and designates a cause of action within 120 days.

Effective Date: This section applies to an appeal under Chapter 42 that is pending on the effective date of the bill (immediately or September 1, 2021).

Sections 25—33. Effective dates and implementing clauses.

The Comptroller of Public Accounts is required to implement a provision of this Act only if the Legislature appropriates money specifically for that purpose. If the Legislature does not appropriate money specifically for that purpose, the Comptroller may, but is not required to, implement a provision of this Act using other appropriations available for that purpose.
